POLITERACY, CIVICATION AND VALUES REORIENTATION

The second edition of this book is packed with some of the disruptive out of the box thinking of the first edition and some of the fresh perspectives that author, Omagbitse Barrow has learned especially after his unsuccessful but highly impactful attempt at a seat at the National Assembly in Nigeria in 2019.

The non-partisan thoughts of Mr Barrow's book which he aptly describes as the "Manifesto of Forward-Thinking Nigerians" is a must read for anyone who wants to discover the truth and the key to societal transformation.

To improve democratic outcomes and create the good governance that we all yearn for, we need to increase the quality and quantum of political participation in the country.

To achieve this, Omagbitse Barrow believes we need a massive investment in #Politeracy and he explores the subject in depth in this illustrated coffee table book that is an easy read for everyone to enjoy.

The realization of a better Nigeria can only be achieved when forward-thinking Nigerians decide to participate in the governance of the country with the aim of transforming the country into a better society.

#Let'sGetInvolved Board Game gives players an opportunity to learn more about getting involved in governance while having fun with family and friends.

To encourage more meaningful civic engagement and the deepening of our civic space, Omagbitse Barrow offers 110 thoughts to challenge Nigerians to understand their role in society; the functions and purpose of Government and the rights and responsibilities of individuals and institutions in building a stable and just society.

The illustrated coffee table book is a must read for all Nigerians regardless of their age.

At the heart of Nigeria's recalcitrant problem is the mindset of the average Nigerian that is in dire need of transformational change. In fact, author, Omagbitse Barrow believes that if there is to be any revolution or restructuring in Nigeria it needs to be the restructuring and revolution of the hearts and minds of Nigerians.

He presents 110 paradigm-shifting ideas and thoughts on the pursuit of our common humanity; the fight against corruption and the practice of values-based leadership in Nigeria.
